

I'm learning to like this program—a lot! I didn't know whether I would or not since it is so different from what I'm used to. My favorite character to type is #, so I'll have to remember to type that in a special way.

I was talking to my friend Mrs. H.G. Jones the other day. She asked me, “What is the name of your college?” This was confusing for me—she should know W&J since she lived in Canonsburg from 1980–1984! She asked me if there were any classes in which I was getting a D. I told her that I have above a 70% in all of my classes.
